Experience & Commitment:

Building on my character, care and competencies, I facilitate a process of transformation through attentive listening, creative questioning, advisement and education.

I have enjoyed broad international and intercultural experience in leadership, educational and consulting roles in Italy, Ireland, England, Colombia, Chile, and Mexico as well as having been a special Staff Officer and Chaplain in the United States Navy serving both with Sailors and Marines.

With more than 30 years of experience in the field of personal, professional and intercultural leadership development, I am considered to be much more than a life and leadership coach. My broad academic, professional and experiential background in dealing with thousands of individuals across cultures and organizations makes me a highly versatile coach, advisor, mentor, educator and confidant for any senior influencer.
